ACADEMIC CUSTOMS AND DRESS

The origins of many customs of the academic world can be traced to the Middle Ages, particularly the 11th and 12th centuries when the first European universities – Bologna, Paris, and Oxford – were founded.

In their original organization, the universities were like medieval corporations or guilds. In fact the word “universitas” originally referred to any kind of corporation. The students at the universities were equated to guild apprentices, and so the completion of the apprenticeship was celebrated by a “commencement” marking the beginning of their careers.

In the 12th century, everyone wore gowns. The social and economic status of an individual was shown by the extra features, such as fur trimming, on the gowns. Cloaks with hoods were worn over gowns for protection in bad weather. Degrees began to be awarded in the 13th century, and different styles of gowns and different colors came to represent the various degrees and disciplines.

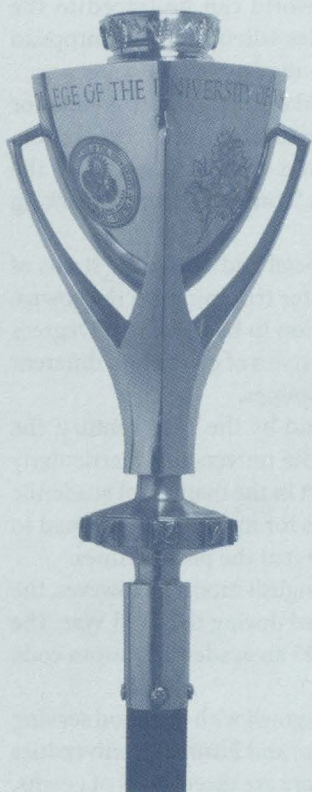

Over the centuries the styles of dress changed, and by the 17th century, the wearing of gowns by men had virtually ceased. But the universities, particularly those in Britain, continued to be conservative and strict in the manner of academic customs and dress. At Oxford, for instance, candidates for master's degrees had to swear that they owned a gown and would always wear it at the proper times.

The first American universities were founded on English models. However, the wearing of academic dress was not universal and ceased during the Civil War. The custom was revived in the late 19th century, and in 1895 an academic custom code was adopted which, with modifications, is still used.

Most American universities have the standard black gown with the hood serving to distinguish the individual institution. Some American and European universities have adopted or preserved more distinctive gowns. There are three styles of gowns, distinguished mainly by the sleeves: the bachelor's gown, with long pointed sleeves; the master's, with a squared sleeve, cut so the forearm is free; the doctoral, with bell-shaped sleeves with three velvet bands.

The hood is the really distinguishing feature of modern gowns, indicating the degree (the width of the edging band), the discipline (the color of the band) and the college or university (the colors of the lining). Today's graduates have hoods edged in white (B.A., MALS), gold (B.S., BLS), drab (BPS, MBA), or light blue (M.Ed., M.S.). Many faculty members will have blue edging indicating the Ph.D. degree. The faculty will be wearing hoods representing many distinguished institutions of higher education, e.g., maroon and gold for Central Michigan University, red and black for Rutgers University, green and black for Tulane University, orange and white for the University of Tennessee, and navy blue and orange for the University of Virginia.

THE ACADEMIC MACE

The tradition of the academic mace began in the late 14th century when two ancient instruments, the royal scepter and the battle mace, were combined to form a symbol of the authority of the president or rector of a university. Noblemen carried the battle mace as both a weapon and staff of command, and the sovereign used the regal scepter as a sign of rulership, justice, and authority.

The academic mace indicates that the president of the university is the temporary embodiment of the power, authority, autonomy, and sovereignty vested in the institution represented.

At the University of Mary Washington the faculty marshal carries the academic mace, on behalf of the president, at public events such as commencement exercises, inaugurations, and convocations.

The University of Mary Washington mace was designed by Asprey and Company of London, England, and was first used for the May 1970 Commencement.

THE EAGLE PIPE BAND

Performing at today's Commencement ceremony is the Eagle Pipe Band. The band was formed in 1997 with a small number of Mary Washington students and members of the Fredericksburg community. It has grown steadily each year, adding pipers, drummers, and dancers.

Of special interest, the Eagle Pipe Band was founded by and is under the direction of Dr. Raymond B. Scott, Professor of Chemistry at the University of Mary Washington. The tartan worn by the performers was designed by the University to match the school colors. It is registered in Scotland's official registry of tartans.

ACADEMIC HONORS AND SPECIAL AWARDS

Academic achievement is recognized at Commencement through a variety of honors and awards. Other awards were presented at the Convocation ceremony and at the Graduate Recognition Reception on Friday, May 11. In addition, most academic departments sponsor chapters of honor societies that recognize student achievement in specific disciplines.

ACADEMIC DISTINCTION

The University recognizes the academic achievement of graduating students through the awards of Summa Cum Laude, Magna Cum Laude, Cum Laude, With Highest Distinction, and With Distinction. Students who have earned at least 60 graded credits in residence may qualify for the first three of these awards with the following grade-point averages:

Summa Cum Laude	3.75 or higher
Magna Cum Laude	3.50-3.74
Cum Laude	3.25-3.49

With Highest Distinction and With Distinction are awarded to graduating seniors who have earned 30 to 59 graded credits in residence with the following grade-point averages:

With Highest Distinction	3.75 or higher
With Distinction	3.30-3.74

DEPARTMENTAL HONORS

Students may earn graduation with honors in their major subjects. Each department establishes its own requirements for honors projects or theses. All departments require that a student intending to undertake an honors project have a specified minimum grade-point average in the major subject and a minimum grade-point average for all work taken at the University of Mary Washington.

FACULTY EMERITUS

Faculty members who have served the University of Mary Washington for at least 15 years and who have attained the rank of professor or associate professor are eligible to be considered for emeritus status. This honor, by action of the Board of Visitors, is bestowed this year upon the following distinguished members of the faculty.

Fredrick Davidson

Professor of Business Administration

An engineer by early training, Dr. Davidson's interests in business include decision analysis, management science and operations research, organizational development and behavior, management intuition and creativity, and entrepreneurship. Having been self-employed as a consultant and trainer for many years, he also taught at Old Dominion University and the University of Virginia. He has been a member of the faculty at the University of Mary Washington since 1986, including a year as the acting chairperson of the Department of Business Administration.

For several summers, Dr. Davidson conducted three- to five-week residential personal growth and life planning semesters for the Association of Learning, an experimental education venture of Atlantic University. In addition, he served as controller for the Association for Research and Enlightenment (A.R.E.) and was the program director for the A.R.E. Children's Camp from 1972 to 1992.

Dr. Davidson is the co-editor of An Introduction to Creativity and co-author of Industrial Engineering Techniques: Handbook for Civil Engineering Operations and Problems and Models in Operations Management. He earned a doctorate and a master of business administration from the University of Pittsburgh after receiving a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering from Texas A&M University. He is a member of the engineering honor society Tau Beta Phi, the business honor society Beta Gamma Sigma, and the academic honor society Phi Kappa Phi.

Victor A. Fingerhut

Associate Professor of Political Science

An expert in political theory and public opinion, Mr. Fingerhut has taught at Mary Washington since the late 1960s while also remaining active in politics. With bachelor's and master's degrees in political science from Yale University, he has conducted polls and designed communications campaigns for a variety of political candidates, parties, and labor unions. Among his clients were Hubert Humphrey, Lloyd Bentsen, Paul Simon, the United Steelworkers of America, the United Mineworkers, the New Democratic Party of Canada, and the Australian Party.

Recently, at the request of the State Department and other groups interested in the success of democratic political systems, Mr. Fingerhut provided volunteer briefings on the democratic process to political, labor, and business leaders in many of the world's newer democracies in Eastern Europe, Latin America, and elsewhere. He also has provided volunteer help to democratic and labor groups abroad, seeking to establish democracies in countries ruled by repressive governments, such as the democracy movement in Myanmar (Burma).

In interviews on C-SPAN, CNN, MSNBC, and Fox Broadcasting, as well as national print media, Mr. Fingerhut has shared his expertise in the areas of polling, American public opinion, political campaigns, the media and politics, U.S. presidential politics, Canadian politics, the future of the American labor movement, and the relationship between labor and politics. In addition, he has written articles on politics for many publications including The Washington Post, the Los Angeles Times, Campaigns and Elections, and The New Republic, as well as publications abroad.

ADMINISTRATOR EMERITUS

Ronald E. Singleton

Vice President for University Relations and Communications _____

Dr. Singleton served more than a decade as Vice President for University Relations and Communications at the University of Mary Washington. His responsibilities included overseeing the institution's fund raising, media relations, website, publications, marketing, community relations, alumni relations, and legislative relations programs. He also served as executive director of the university's two 501(c)(3) foundations, with assets totaling more than $45 million.

Dr. Singleton has directed communications programs at four different colleges and universities over the past 32 years, including Ferrum College, Wofford College, Shenandoah University, and UMW, where he served 20 years. He earned the nation's top awards in marketing, communications, and public relations. A specialist in helping colleges and universities gain national recognition and visibility through media relations, he has worked with the producers of the TODAY Show, Good Morning America, CBS Morning Show, CNN, C-SPAN and others on faculty interviews featuring topical areas of expertise.

In addition, Dr. Singleton is the co-founder of the College Communicators Association of Virginia and the District of Columbia (CCA), which has a membership of more than 500 professionals. He is a founding member of the Fredericksburg Public Relations Society. Dr. Singleton holds a bachelor's degree in English from the College of William and Mary, a master's degree from Shippensburg University of Pennsylvania, and a doctorate with concentrations in mass communications and higher education from Virginia Commonwealth University.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

THE HONORABLE NEWTON “NEWT” L. GINGRICH

Newt Gingrich served as a member of Congress for 20 years and as Speaker of the U.S. House of Representatives from 1995-1999. He is widely recognized as the chief architect of the Republican “Contract with America” and the key strategist and leader behind the 1994 Republican victory, which created the first GOP majority in Congress in 40 years. Under his leadership, Congress passed welfare reform, the first balanced budget in a generation, and the first tax cuts in 16 years. TIME magazine, in naming him Man of the Year for 1995, said, “Leaders make things possible. Exceptional leaders make them inevitable. Newt Gingrich belongs in the category of the exceptional.”

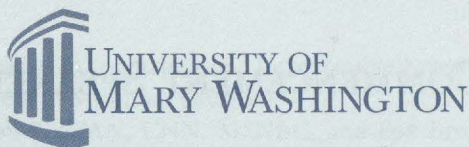

His contributions in areas of health care led the American Diabetes Association to award him their highest non-medical award and the March of Dimes to name him their 1995 Georgia Citizen of the Year. He currently focuses on health issues in the private sector as founder of the Center for Health Transformation and is a Board member of the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation. A leading advocate of increased federal funding for basic science research, he was the 2001 recipient of the Science Coalition’s first Science Pioneer award, given to him for his outstanding contributions to educating the public about science and its benefits to society.

A strong advocate of volunteerism, Dr. Gingrich has long championed the positive impact every individual can have on society. He has raised millions of dollars for charity, donating both time and money to a wide array of causes, including Habitat for Humanity, United Cerebral Palsy, the American Cancer Society, Zoo Atlanta, and the Earning By Learning literacy program, which he founded. He is widely recognized for his commitment to the environment and in 1998 was named Legislative Conservationist of the Year by the Georgia Wildlife Federation.

A lifelong student of history, he received his bachelor’s degree from Emory University and a master’s and a doctorate from Tulane University in modern European history. Before his election to Congress, he taught history and environmental studies at West Georgia College for eight years. He is widely recognized as an expert on world history, military issues, and international affairs, having written 11 books including the best-sellers Winning the Future, Contract with America, and To Renew America.

Dr. Gingrich is the founder of a communications and consulting firm specializing in transformational change and serves as a political analyst for FOX News Network. He is also a senior fellow at the American Enterprise Institute in Washington, D.C., and a distinguished visiting fellow at the Hoover Institution at Stanford University in Palo Alto, Calif.

He resides in Virginia with his wife, Callista. He has two daughters and two grandchildren.

ALMA MATER

All hail, dear Alma Mater,
We sing our praise to you.
High on Marye's Hilltop
You stand forever true;
Born in truth and honor
You ever more shall be,
The model of our future years
And all eternity.

Whene'er we have to leave you
We never will forget,
The lessons you have taught us,
And all the friends we've met;
And we your sons and daughters
Will hold your name on high,
So here's to Mary Washington;
Our love will never die.
